

Speaker's Biosketch

ICoLA 2024

Sung-Jin Hong (Yonsei University, Republic of Korea)

Sung-Jin Hong graduated Yonsei University College of Medicine and is board-certified in Internal Medicine. He has specialized in cardiology and interventional cardiology. He completed a clinical fellowship at Yonsei University Severance Hospital and now working at Severance Cardiovascular Hospital as an associate professor. His research interests are clinical cardiology, particularly in interventional cardiology including percutaneous coronary intervention with complex high-risk indicated procedure and pharmacotherapy such as antiplatelet therapy or lipid lowering therapy after percutaneous coronary intervention.