

Speaker's Biosketch

ICoLA 2024

Hack-Lyoung Kim (Seoul National University, Republic of Korea)

Dr. Kim graduated from Chonnam National University College of Medicine in 2002 (Gwangju, South Korea) and completed residency training in internal medicine and fellowship training in cardiology at Seoul National University Hospital (Seoul, South Korea) in 2008. Since 2012, Dr. Kim has been working as a professor of cardiology at Boramae Hospital. Dr. Kim's research interests include cardiovascular primary prevention, arterial stiffness, and women's heart disease. Dr. Kim has made significant research contributions in these areas and has received numerous awards for these achievements. Additionally, Dr. Kim serves as an editorial board member for several prestigious journals, including the CardioMetabolic Syndrome Journal, Korean Circulation Journal, International Journal of Heart Failure, Pulse, the Journal of Clinical Hypertension, and Frontier in Cardiovascular Medicine.